FROM OSHKOSH, WIS.

C. W. HALE, WIFE AND DAUGHTER SETTLE IN GLENDALE AFTER LOOKING AROUND

C. W. Hale and wife and daughter Bessie, who came to California a few weeks ago, locating in Hollywood, came over to Glendale on Monday, looked at several pieces of property that day and Tuesday, finally buying the bungalow and lot at 329 Howard street. They rented an apartment here till their goods come from Oshkosh, when they will occupy their new purchase. Miss Bessie had a disagreeable and peculiar experience the second day in Glendale. Two very valuable Angora cats she had brought with her from the East, were put in the house yesterday morning and left there when the family returned to the apartment for dinner. When they went back to the house they found the screen door open, the cats missing and also a hoe with which Mr. Hale had been working in the garden. This morning the cats were found locked in the garage, but how they got there is a mystery. Miss Hale says that in spite of this disagreeable episode, she and her family are delighted with their adopted city and will be very much pleased when their furniture arrives and they can settle down to real living. Mr. Hale was in business in Oshkosh for many years, but has now retired and proposes to take it easy in the new home with a garden and a few chickens to look after.

STILL GREAT DEARTH OF HOUSES TO RENT

It was thought that with the coming of the warm summer days when many of the winter tourists had gone back East, that houses to rent in Glendale would be more plentiful, but the Evening News has a number of calls every day from people seeking residence locations and wanting to know if any houses were advertised. Many of these people want to rent for a few months until they can look around and buy something that suits them. It seems a pity we must lose so many good citizens simply because we have no place for them to live.

NEWS FROM NICHOLS FAMILY

Benjamin H. Nichols of National, Washington, is here visiting old friends and will be at his former home on Adams street for several weeks while packing up and attending to the transfer of his place. He reports that his son, Frederic Nichols, was married to Frances McMillan in Tacoma, May 22d. The young couple left immediately for Denver where they will join Frederic's cousin and his wife in a four months' tour of our national parks. The party will be in this section in August or September. Benjamin Nichols, Jr., his father says, has finished his course at Corvallis, Oregon, and is going to Schenectady, New York, to work for the General Electric Company. Benjamin Nichols, Sr., and his wife, plan to come back to Glendale next winter for a visit.

MOTHERS ENTERTAINED

DOMESTIC SCIENCE GIRLS IN SENIOR CLASS HOSTESSES AT PRETTY FUNCTION

Girls in the senior class of the Domestic Science Department of Glendale High, entertained their mothers with a luncheon Wednesday noon in the bungalow of the department. The guests were: Mesdames David Black, Joseph Webster, William Woods, George Singleton, Elsworth Harding and Louis Woods, George U. Moyse, and Miss Ellen Hanson, head of the department.

It was a four-course affair and everything served from the bouillon with which it began to the angel cake and ice cream and the candies dispensed as a dessert, including the bread, jellies, etc., had been prepared by the young girl hostesses. They were also responsible for decorations and appointments. Pink and white was their color scheme carried out in the floral centerpiece with carnations, and the little nut-baskets being in the form of paper carnations which the young hostesses also made. It was as pretty a table as any one need desire to sit down to and the mothers beamed with pride and satisfaction as the function proceeded. The hostesses were: Esther Black, Leola Webster, Lucile Wood, Mildred Singleton, Eltha Harding, Helen Woods, and Ruth Nicholson.

BICYCLE ACCIDENT

F. A. COFFIN SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN THROWN FROM HIS WHEEL

Frank A. Coffin of 324 Ethel St., publicity secretary for the Pacific Union Conference, S. D. A., met with a serious accident yesterday morning as he was on his way to work, riding his bicycle. The lamp attached to the handlebar came apart and the lower portion caught in the spokes of the front wheel causing the bike to come to a very sudden stop when the obstruction met the front fork as the wheel revolved. Mr. Coffin was thrown over the handlebars and struck on the left side of his head and face, resulting in a slight concussion of the brain, a bruised and skinned face and a sprained wrist. He was very sick yesterday from the pain and concussion, but is considerably better this morning.

CHAPTER L. OF P. E. O.

Chapter L. of the P. E. O. met for an afternoon meeting at the home of H. V. Goss Wednesday. There was an excellent attendance. A business session was called at 2:30 and immediately following the program, which was in charge of Mrs. A. M. Hunt, was given. "Americanization" was the general theme, being a review of what had been accomplished this year. Mrs. Hunt read a paper entitled "Notes on Americanization," Mrs. C. D. Lusby one on "Who Is Really an American?" and Mrs. Charles Temple on "What Should Be the Work of the P. E. O. in Americanization?"

Mrs. Moule of Chapter A., Highland, New York, was a guest and gave a word of greeting.

The next gathering of the Chapter, which will be an all-day meeting and the last one of the year, will be held at the home of Mrs. Daniel Campbell.

READING CIRCLE

ABSENT LEADER WRITES OF LIFE IN THE SOUTH, AND STATUS OF SCHOOLS

A very interesting meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle was held on Wednesday in the regular meeting place in the Juvenile room of the Public Library.

Mrs. A. A. Barton, the chairman, read a letter from Mrs. Toll, the founder of the Circle, written from Charleston, South Carolina. Mrs. Toll wrote most entertainingly of her impressions of the South. The beautiful oaks and many parks of Savannah were an especial delight to her, but she found that the grammar schools of the southern city compared very unfavorably with ours in Glendale.

An article entitled "The Completely Socialized School," by Robert V. Cummins, was reviewed by Mrs. Frank Ayars. She quoted Mr. Cummins as saying:

"The product of the public school should be an individual socially efficient. School life must be so conducted that it becomes to the pupil a real part of the broader life of society and a preparation for this life."

Mrs. Sonntag, Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. S. L. Smith and Mrs. Ayars were named as the tea committee to serve during June.

Mrs. Ralston read to the Circle from the "Study of Child Development," by Nathan Oppenheim, the chapter on "Institutional Life."

He deplored that too often in such an establishment the "Individual child is no more thought of than one lamb in a large flock. He urges that in institutions surroundings should as closely as possible resemble those in a real home."

CERRITOS AVENUE P.-T. A.

The Executive Board of the Cerritos Avenue P.-T. A. met with the president, Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, Wednesday afternoon, at which time plans were made for the next regular meeting at which Miss Orfa Jean Shontz will be the speaker. The teachers of the school will act as hostesses and serve refreshments. It will be the last meeting of the year and a large attendance is expected.

Mrs. Laura Walcott, of the Walcott Beauty Parlors, has just received an important appointment from the Laskey corporation. She goes to the Laskey studio in Hollywood every morning to dress the hair of the film stars.

STATE HIGHWAY SITUATION

GOVERNOR STEPHENS WANTS BOND MATTER REFERRED TO VOTE OF THE PEOPLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SACRAMENTO, May 27.—Governor Stephens wants the state highway situation referred to the voters, he declared in a statement today. State highway bonds are unsalable owing to the low interest rate they bear and owing to the condition of the money market. If work on the state highways is to be continued the interest rate on the bonds must be raised or they must be sold far below their par value.

The governor's statement followed a conference with L. A. Nares, representing the California Automobile Association, and Henry W. McKellar representing the Automobile Club of Southern California. Both Nares and McKellar told the governor that their organizations recommend the suspension of highway work for the time being and that they are opposed to raising the interest rates on the bonds.

This is a decided change from the position taken by the automobile men a short time ago when they offered to circulate petitions which would place on the ballot an initiative measure to raise the interest rates.

PRESIDENT'S PLAN PREFERRED

MINERS IN CONVENTION AT WILKESBARRE TURN DOWN PROPOSAL BY SECY. OF LABOR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 27.—Anthracite miners in convention here today unanimously defeated a proposition submitted by Secretary of Labor Wilson for a settlement of wage differences with mine operators. The convention agreed to adopt the proposal made by President Wilson for the appointment of a committee to adjust the dispute.

NAVAL BASE FOR SAN FRANCISCO

PROVISION FOR INVESTIGATION ADDED TO THE NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—A provision for a special Congressional committee to investigate the advisability of a naval base at San Francisco was added to the naval appropriation bill today by the House and Senate conferees.

PRESIDENT VETOES KNOX RESOLUTION

PROPOSED PEACE DECLARED "COMPLETE SURRENDER OF U. S. RIGHTS SO FAR AS GERMANY IS CONCERNED"

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—President Wilson today vetoed the Knox peace resolution declaring an end to the war between the United States and Germany and Austria-Hungary. The resolution, Wilson declared, "is in effect a complete surrender of the rights of the United States so far as the German government is concerned."

FREIGHT EMBARGO IN IRELAND

SHIPMENTS HELD UP BY STRIKE OF DOCK WORKERS AND RAILROAD MEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DUBLIN, Ireland, May 27.—An embargo was placed today on all freight and express shipments by the London & Northwestern Railroad as the result of a strike of dock dorkers and railway men at North Wall where unionists have refused to handle munitions.

TEACHERS' SALARIES

RELEASE TEACHERS WHO ARE TEACHING NON-ESSENTIAL BRANCHES

Tomorrow, May 28th, the trustees of the various school districts in Los Angeles County are asked to appear before the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County to consider ways and means of procuring money with which to pay the teachers of the county higher salaries.

The only way to raise this money is to levy an additional tax on the taxable property of the county. The school tax is unreasonably high now, and yet it is just and right that teachers should be better paid for their services than they are at present.

The solution to the whole question is easy: Keep the tax rate as it is, and lower it if possible, but cut out of the high schools about one-third of the teaching force who are now being paid for teaching branches that are non-essential to a practical and business high school education, the purpose of which non-essential branches is to prepare boys and girls for college and university work which is of benefit only to a very small per cent of those who enter a high school.

The money saved by discontinuing the services of the high salaried language teachers may be applied to the salaries of the teachers of the grades and the other teachers who are retained in the high schools.

Seventy-five per cent of the patrons of the schools favor just such a proposition as outlined above, and will boost for it if given an opportunity.

For the past twenty years university and college men have been prescribing the course of study to be pursued in the high schools, and the patrons of the respective school districts have had very little to say about it. The Evening News has been conscious of the serious condition being brought about by the control of the schools passing out of the hands of the people, but the whole scheme has been so cunningly worked that it has been difficult to offer opposition without the one offering such opposition being labeled as an enemy to the high school system. What are you going to do about it?

TWO FIRES

LADDIES RESPOND TO FALSE ALARM AND EXTINGUISH BLAZE ACROSS L. A. LINE

Fire laddies at Station No. 1 on Broadway were called out twice between sunset on Wednesday and sunrise this morning. The first call came about 9 p. m. from parties unknown who stated that a light pole was on fire on Brand near Maple street. The chemical engine responded, but could locate no blaze.

The other call came at 4 a. m. from a Japanese vegetable stand on Los Feliz Road west of the S. P. tracks. It was out of the strict jurisdiction of the Glendale Company, in Los Angeles, but because there were many contiguous shacks occupied by Japanese gardeners, they were glad to do what they could for their protection. The vegetable stand was nearly consumed by the time they reached it as it contained much inflammable material in the way of empty crates to feed the flames, but they extinguished the blaze and prevented its spread to other property. Meanwhile two trains north bound, a freight and a passenger, were held up for a few minutes because the hose was stretched across the tracks.

STATE GOVERNMENT

HOW ORGANIZED AND CARRIED ON EXPLAINED BY ASSEMBLYMAN WHITE

Members of the classes in civics at Glendale Union High School taught by Mr. Root and Miss Soper, and a few other classes had a treat Tuesday when they were addressed at 1:10 p. m. by John Robert White, Jr., Assemblyman for this district. He had been requested by Mr. Root to tell them something at first hand about the law making branch of our government and his talk, though necessarily brief and quite informal, was most interesting. In an entertaining way he sketched the history of California from the American occupation to the establishment of a government which like the distant stars shed its light over the golden state and was in operation here long before it reached the far distant home government in Washington and was there formally ratified. As pictured by the speaker, California was too impatient to wait for tedious preliminaries; she had no doubt her state would be welcomed. The event showed her faith was justified, for though of illegitimate birth, she was duly accepted and adopted into the Union as soon as Washington knew of her advent. Mr. White described the first constitutional convention held in Colton Hall, Monterey, the only hall big enough in all California, and then, after the constitution had been adopted, how a governor, state officers, and members of the legislature were elected. He told of the bickerings over where the capital should be located, its perigrinations from San Jose to Vallejo, and to Benicia, none of these places having accommodations for the sessions or the entertainment of legislators, until in February, 1854, or four and one-half years after the first session of the legislature had been held in San Jose, Sacramento was chosen as the permanent capital of the state. At first the court house of Sacramento was used by the legislature for its sessions, quarters being rented for the state officers, but in 1860 the erection of a capitol building on a park of 33 acres donated by the City of Sacramento was begun. Not until 1869 was it occupied by the governor and state officers and not until 1874 was it completed. When finished from basement to dome it had cost in the neighborhood of $3,000,000. The speaker spoke with enthusiasm concerning the wonderful character of the building, of Corinthian architecture with walls six feet thick, the basement and first story being of California granite. He also dwelt on the beauty of the park surrounding the capitol. The divisions of the interior, which rises four stories above the basement, and the uses to which its 146 rooms are put, were described so that any student might know just what to expect in visiting the home of the state government.

Mr. White then took up the branches of the government, legislative, judicial and executive and showed how jealously the constitution tried to prevent any trespass by one upon the powers of the other. He explained how laws begin ordinarily with bills introduced in the assembly or senate, but that the peo-

STUDENTS FURNISH UNUSUAL PROGRAM TO BE REPEATED AT EAGLE ROCK

The Girls' Glee Club of Glendale High, led by Mrs. Dora Gibson, head of the Music Department, furnished a great treat for the program of the Parent-Teacher Association meeting Wednesday afternoon by giving Tennyson's "Lady of Shalott" in a musical setting composed by the English song writer, Wilfred Bendall. It is rather unusual music and was as great a pleasure to the twenty-five or more girls composing the club as to the appreciative audience which heard it. The story is that of the solitary weaver in the tower of Shalott, who was condemned on peril of a curse which would befall her if she disobeyed, to view the sights of the river flowing down through Camelot and the highway leading down to Camelot solely through their reflection in a mirror into which she gazed as she wove the pictures of the passing throng into her web. But when Launcelot, the knight irresistible, came riding down to Camelot she forgot everything and went to the window and the curse was upon her. In its musical setting, solo numbers which tell the story alternate with choruses which emphasize the tragedy. Miss Marie Oliver was the soloist and filled the role beautifully in spite of the fact that she has been suffering with a cold for several days. It was an ambitious effort, but highly creditable to the singers and their instructor.

Other numbers were contributed by girls who have been taking ex-

LEAGUE SOCIAL

YOUNG PEOPLE OF CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH ENTERTAINED WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY

A jolly social took place at the Central Methodist Church Tuesday evening. It was an Epworth League affair and the program was in charge of the pastor's wife, Mrs. F. Marion Smith. It was called a birthday party and celebrated the anniversary of the establishment of the Epworth Herald thirty years ago. Mrs. Hewitt baked and presented to the League a birthday cake beautifully decorated with colored frostings by her own skillful hands and bearing the proper dates.

Original diversions suitable to the occasion had been devised by Mrs. Smith. These included the clipping from the columns of the Herald of 31 advertisements well known to most readers of the League organ. These were robbed of the names of the advertisers and then passed around for the company to guess the concerns they represented.

For another guessing stunt an ad was pasted on the back of each person present where it would be impossible for him or her to see it. The victim was nevertheless expected to determine what the ad was from the answers given to the questions he asked of those who could see it.

After that the room was divided into seven groups representing that many departments of the "Epworth Herald" from "Jest and Jollity" to

The 12x14 building which stood for a long time at the corner of Brand and Colorado and was moved back to make room for G. E. LeClare's business building and oil station, was sold recently to S. E. Wright, who moved it yesterday to the corner of Everett and Orange Grove avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Daniels of 142 North Central avenue recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Levill and son, Nelson, of Hollywood. Wednesday Mrs. Daniels entertained at luncheon Mr. and Mrs. J. The Evening News is indebted to Tony Frazier of East Broadway for a fine specimen of Brassica Campestris of the genus Rutabaga. Mrs. C. D. Bennett of 1608 South Brand boulevard was hostess Tuesday evening at an informal social affair in honor of Miss Dorothy Hobbs. About 28 ladies were present, all intimate friends of the bride to be. They brought their needlework and visited together and at an auspicious moment a toy automobile with a trailer attached was driven into the room and was found to be loaded with a grocery shower for the guest of honor. Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

E. Pentecost of 1107 East Wilson avenue leaves tomorrow for Denver, Colo., to take charge of a branch of the American Express Company there. His wife, son and daughter will follow as soon as school is out. Mr. Pentecost has lived in Los Angeles and Glendale for five years, coming to the coast for his health, which he has fully regained. He was sorry to have to leave Glendale and the family all hope that they can return here to live before many years.

Warren Roberts and wife, who recently sold their home at 539 East Elk, have bought a lot and a half adjoining a tract of the same size recently acquired by Mrs. Roberts' parents, C. S. Archer and wife, just east of their residence, 607 East Elk. STATE GOVERNMENT ple have reserved to themselves the right to make laws by initiative process adopting or rejecting them by the vote of the people at the ballot box, and how they also reserve the power of referendum—i. e., to refer to the people any law passed by the legislature to be balloted upon before it becomes a law. Thus in California we have two law making bodies, the legislature and the people.

Mr. White described the intricate course of a bill through the legislature, the committees that work on it, the many readings it has, the amendments made which often render it wholly unrecognizable by the original maker. The manner in which the legislature had delegated some of its powers, for instance, to the Industrial Welfare Commission which is given power to regulate labor conditions, etc., were set forth.

The procedure of the legislature which meets every two years for two sessions, the first one opening the first Monday after the first of January, was described. That session, which does not last to exceed thirty days is taken up with the organization of the assembly and senate and the introduction of bills. An adjournment of not less than thirty days is then taken that the people of the state may have an opportunity to think about the bills that have been introduced and make up their minds about them before they come up for consideration by the legislature. The fact that senators serve for four years and assemblymen for two years, was mentioned, and also the fact that after every census the state is divided afresh into 80 assembly districts and 40 senatorial ones according to population, Los Angeles county under this system at the present time having 15 assemblymen and 8 senators.

The executive branch of the government, the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Comptroller, Surveyor General, Board of Equalization and other state officers elected for four years was referred to, the special powers of the Governor as supreme executive being set forth, such as the veto power, the power to pardon or commute court sentences, the power to call out the militia, and the power to appoint a variety of state commissions such as the Railroad Commission.

The divisions of the executive branch of the government were recited, how it consists of a supreme court headed by a Chief Justice and six associate justices who are elected from the state at large. The term is twelve years, but they are so classified that some of them go out of office every four years. The Supreme Court, he explained, has appellate jurisdiction on appeals from the Superior Court, also all cases that involve the title of real estate, the legality of any tax, etc., also in criminal cases where judgment of death has been rendered. The relations of the appellate court as an intermediary between the district and supreme courts above it and the superior or county courts below it, were made clear.

Mr. White also showed that the legislature has certain judicial powers in that it may sit as a court of impeachment if the loyalty of a state officer is called in question.

The ways in which the legislature manifests its powers were enumerated by the speakers as: The passage of bills, the adoption of joint resolutions, the adoption of concurrent resolutions, and the adoption of constitutional amendments to be ratified by the people at the polls. A bill he defined as the copy of a proposed change in the statutes or general laws. A joint resolution, he said, deals with federal questions, while a concurrent resolution pertains to legislative matters other than a law. There were 1700 bills introduced at the last session of the legislature, Mr. White said.

He touched on the work of the commissions as part of the state's executive machinery and on that of the Board of Equalization and Comptroller, who are elected and who act as a sort of budget committee for the instruction of the legislature and state officers. The state funds, he explained, come entirely from corporation taxes, inheritance taxes and railroad taxes.

CHANGE OF DATE

Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, superintendent of music at Glendale Union High School, calls attention to the change of date for the appearance of Le Trio Intime at the last Pay Assembly at the High School. The appearance of this trio secured through an arrangement with Behymer had been announced for June 4th, but the date has been advanced to June 1st. Mrs. Gibson thinks this will be the finest program of any of the Pay Assemblies given during the year. The program is given in a display advertisement in this issue and all who are interested are asked to note the change of date.

Miss L. A. French and Miss Nelle Hindman of Tulsa, Oklahoma, are spending the summer in Glendale having located at 131 North Orange for the present.

An English inventor of a new wireless telephone claims that it is compact enough for a man to carry the entire apparatus.

pression work in the Department of Dramatic Art under Miss Terry. Miss Frances Smith gave "My Jersey Cow;" Miss Agnes Brown, "An Abused Boy;" Dorothy Jane Bolt, "At the Shoemaker's;" and Bessie Heide, "The Spoiled Child." The girls were warmly applauded, but no encores were permitted by Miss Terry who said they were not prepared. Next week these recitations and the "Lady of Shalott" will be given at the P.-T. A. meeting of the Eagle Rock Grammar School, and the girls are looking forward to the little outing with pleasure. The program on that occasion will also include the original musical compositions by Eagle Rock pupils, presented in the program given before the Tuesday Afternoon Club Music Section by Mrs. Gibson and her students recently.

The chief business transacted at the High School Association was the election of the following slate of officers to serve the coming year:

President, Mrs. H. W. Yarick.

Vice-President, Mrs. Godfrey Edwards of Eagle Rock.

Secretary, Mrs. L. E. Richardson.

Parliamentarian, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson.

Treasurer, Mrs. G. W. Henderson.

Historian, Mrs. William Stofft.

The reports submitted showed that the past year had been one of the most successful in the history of the association, which now has an enrollment of 124 against 44 at the beginning of the year.

Following the program tea and wafers were served in the rear of the auditorium by Domestic Science girls under the direction of Miss Ellen Hanson, head of the Department, Miss Fern Curtis and Miss Elma Foster pouring.

"The Junior Section," and editors were placed in charge. Each group was allotted thirty minutes in which to write up its department, and three judges were appointed to determine which section had done the best work. The prize went to the group headed by C. H. Muhleman which had the "Feature Articles," and that group "took the cake." It was generously divided, however, with the rest of the company after Mr. Muhleman had performed the ceremony of cutting it.

A "mellerdrama" presented under the direction of Miss Esther Besant, followed the department contest and furnished more fun. Then refreshments consisting of wafers, grape punch and the birthday cake, were served.

To demonstrate how necessary the press is for the accurate dissemination of news, to the first person who entered the hall that evening was told a story with instructions to tell it to another instructing him to pass it on by word of mouth and so on. When the refreshments were being enjoyed the person who had been the last to hear the story was requested to tell it that it might be compared with the original narrative. So different was it from the tale originally started it proved the point intended to be made in a most interesting and amusing fashion. Epworth League yells concluded the program, and they were given lustily.

Mrs. Smith, who is the fourth vice-president of the league, was delegated to outline a program for the coming six months and she has been equal to the emergency. The series of picnics, hay-rides, indoor parties and other stunts she has promised insure a gay time for the young people of the church this summer.
